The Santa Clara Valley Water District Landscape Rebate Program

If you own business or reside within Santa Clara County, there's a chance you can receive money from the Landscape Rebate Program for converting your landscape into low-water use landscapes.

You can get rebates for converting your high-water use landscape to be low-water usage, converting or upgrading your irrigation, and installing rain barrels, cisterns, or rain gardens to capture rainwater.

To qualify for the rebate program, you need to start an online application at <https://scvwd.dropletportal.com/>, do a pre-inspection with the District, and then be approved to convert your landscape.

For more information about the program, visit <https://www.valleywater.org/landscaperebateprogram>.

Azaleas Blooming Again!

Spring is typically viewed as the universal standard season for flowers to bloom. With gardens full of green foliage and vibrant spring blossoms, it's an amazing sight to behold for both hobbyist and professionals. However, spring isn't the only season where lots of flowers bloom. Autumn is another season where blooms occur.

In some regions, azaleas bloom once during spring time. In other regions like San Jose, the Azaleas can bloom twice! Once in spring and a second time during the autumn season. There are quite a few different varieties of Azaleas in bloom at the nursery, such as the Azalea 'Alaska', Azalea 'Madonna', and the Azalea 'Pink Lace'. Other Azaleas you can find at the nursery are:

- A. 'Red Ruffles'
- A. 'Little John'
- A. 'Happy Days'
- A. 'Pride of Dorking'

- A. 'George Tabor'
- A. 'Iveryana'
- A. 'Red Bird'
- A. 'Formosa'
- A. 'Orange Delight/Orange Dorking'
- A. 'Duc de Rohan'

The azaleas you can always rely on to rebloom are the Alaska, Madonna, Happy Days, and Red Bird azaleas.

Winter Flowers Exist? Say Hello to Camellias!

Speaking of blooming flowers, Camellias are also in bloom at the nursery!

Around mid-autumn to the start of winter, you can expect to see your Camellia sasanquas bloom. If you have Camellia japonicas, your blossoms come right after the C. sasanquas. Expect to see your C. japonicas bloom in the middle of winter and into spring.

If you don't have Camellias yet, but you're thinking about adding some to your landscape/garden, you can learn more about how to grow Camellias here: <https://www.monrovia.com/how-to-grow-camellias/>

Whether you have Camellias or not, feel free to come by the nursery to view the many blossoms of our Camellias. Camellias you'll find (and also order) here are all in 5 gallon pots and includes:

- C. japonica 'Blood of China'
- C. japonica 'Bob Hope'
- C. japonica 'Debutante'
- C. japonica 'Carter's Sunburst'
- C. japonica 'Jordan's Pride'
- C. japonica 'Kramer's Supreme'
- C. japonica 'Kumasaka'
- C. japonica 'Magnoliaeflora'
- C. japonica 'Nuccio's Bella Rosa'
- C. japonica 'Nuccio's Cameo'
- C. japonica 'Nuccio's Jewel'
- C. japonica 'Pink Parade'
- C. japonica 'Purity'
- C. japonica 'Silver Waves'
- C. japonica 'Tom Knudsen'
- C. sasanqua 'Apple Blossom'
- C. sasanqua 'Bonanza'
- C. sasanqua 'Chansonette'
- C. sasanqua 'Cleopatra'
- C. sasanqua 'Hana Jiman'
